

board member position

established in 2022, verge research is devoted to generating bold ideas and the evidence needed to advance reproductive equity. we are seeking dedicated board members who are passionate about reproductive justice and eager to contribute to our dynamic, new organization.

verge generates evidence that will catalyze policy reform, expand access to reproductive health services and products, and broaden reproductive options. we prioritize under-researched issues and underserved populations. our work is rooted in community-based partnerships and multidisciplinary, innovative approaches. we strive to ask novel questions, seek new and diverse sources and types of information, and apply creative approaches to analyzing data.
